Dear George and Shirley,

Thanks for your recent letter with the cutting about Jenny and the award she received. You must both be very proud of her.

Thanks also for letting me know about the move to Sydney. Have you ever counted up how many moves you have made since you married; it must be just about into double figures by now. There must have been several when George was in the Navy and several more when he worked for IBM. Perhaps you should write a book detailing all the tricks and pitfalls and handy-hints and check-lists for moving house which you have learnt over the years and then sell it via the internet or mail-order. Just kidding!

Kindest regards,
